Suitable for ages 5 to 8

MEET HANUMAN

Hanuman, part monkey and part human, is the son of Vayu, the wind god, and Anjana. He is the general of the monkey army, and there are many stories told about him within and outside of India.

ARTY FACTS

PAIR OF EAR ORNAMENTS WITH HANUMAN HEAD MOTIFS

Java, 11th to 14th century

Gold

Gift of Mr and Mrs Andy Ng

Hanuman is the monkey god in Hinduism, and one of the main characters in the Ramayana, a very old story from India.

In the Ramayana, Sita, the wife of the hero Rama, is kidnapped. Hanuman fights bravely alongside Rama to defeat Ravana, the ten-headed demon king, to save her.

SPY WITH YOUR LITTLE EYE

Hanuman, as an ear ornament, in the Jewellery Gallery.

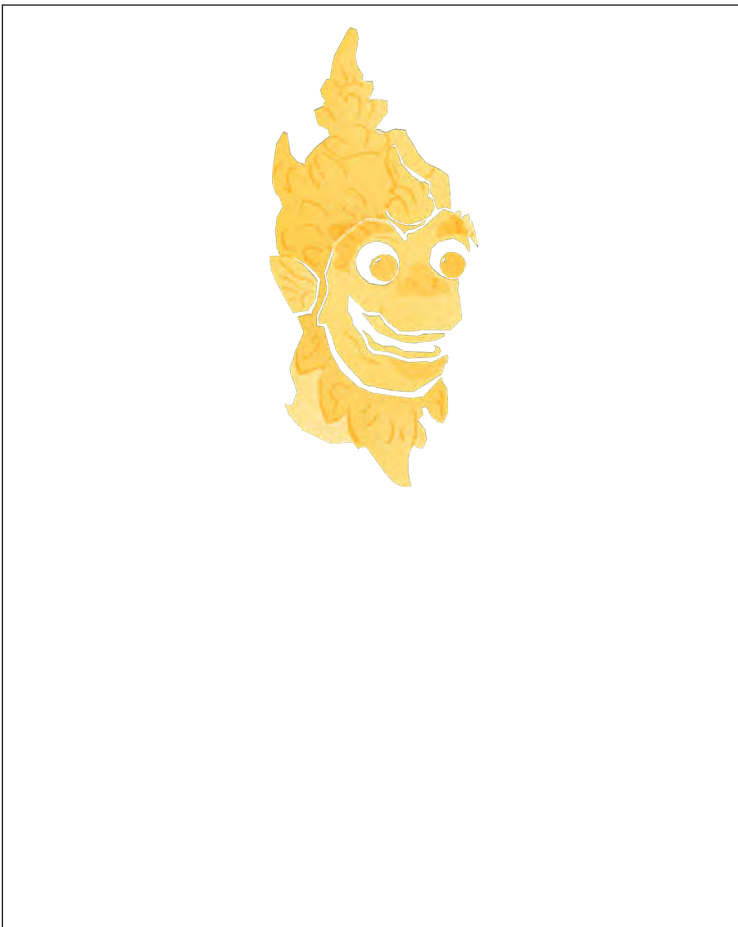

Through these activities, your child/student will learn to:

- Create two-dimensional artworks from observation and imagination

LOOK closely at the pair of earrings. Can you make out the details of his face and his crown?

USE what you know about Hanuman to WRITE three words to describe his personality.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____

COMPLETE the figure of Hanuman by drawing his body here. How would Hanuman be standing? Or would he sit? Don't forget to tag us @ACM_SG and we may feature your creation.
