MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Chung May Khuen
Director
National Museum of Singapore

The National Museum of Singapore stands as a testament to our nation's rich heritage, having witnessed and chronicled Singapore's remarkable journey through time. As we approach a significant milestone in our museum's history – the revamp of our permanent galleries – I am deeply honoured to welcome you to this exclusive event of heritage and philanthropy.

Our museum has always been more than just a repository of artefacts; it is where our nation's stories come alive. The recent reopening of our Shaw Foundation Glass Rotunda and upcoming renewal of our Life in Singapore galleries demonstrates our commitment to presenting these stories in ways that resonate with contemporary audiences while preserving their historical significance.

Your presence and support at our fundraising event will directly contribute to creating immersive and educational experiences for future generations. Together, we can ensure that our shared heritage continues to inspire and educate, making history accessible and engaging for all Singaporeans. Thank you for being part of this meaningful journey.

GUARDIANSHIP HIGH JEWELLERY NECKLACE

BY B. P. DE SILVA

A one-of-a-kind creation of enduring brilliance, B.P. de Silva’s newest high jewellery design based on Guardianship is more than a jewel – it is a story safeguarded in light.

The sapphire and diamond necklace is a tribute to the quiet sentinels of history: the hands that preserve, the hearts that remember, the voices that guide. Set in platinum, each luminous wing whispers of devotion – an heirloom of protection, a promise carried through time. The main sapphire’s hues are deep as the twilight horizon, echoing the wisdom of generations past, while diamonds shimmer like the embers of legacy. The design pays homage to the Art Deco era, an age that revered craftsmanship, much like the guardians of Singapore’s cultural heritage today.

CRYSTAL-EMBELLISHED ARTWORK OF A VIEW OF THE SINGAPORE WATERFRONT

BY SWAROVSKI

This print of a historically significant painting from the National Museum’s collection presents an expansive view of Singapore’s waterfront, featuring a great diversity of vessels and many European-style buildings. The Government House, with its flagstaff on top of Government Hill (present-day Fort Canning Hill), crowns the urban landscape.

Swarovski crystals have been thoughtfully applied to enhance the artwork, which showcases a unique multilayer cut and distinctive star motif. This design redefines brilliance and light refraction, establishing a new benchmark in artistic expression. The integration of Swarovski crystals adds a contemporary layer of craftsmanship that complements the rich historical narrative of the painting.
