

Colour me!

Illustration by Ripple Root

Did you know that the building that is now the Peranakan Museum used to be Tao Nan School, built in 1912? It reopened as the Asian Civilisations Museum in 1997 and then became the Peranakan Museum in 2008.

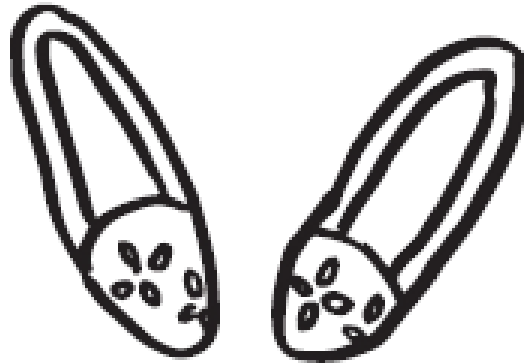

What other objects or motifs do you spot in the mural design?

The mural design has different objects and motifs hidden within it. Spot the following!

A tiffin carrier (also called a tingkat) is a food container made up of several layers. Soup is usually stored at the bottom, with rice at the top.

Kasut manek are beaded slippers traditionally made and worn by Peranakan women.

The phoenix on this teapot is an auspicious symbol of beauty and grace.